

Why?

Why do some people feel the need to post signs saying "IT'S OK TO BE WHITE"?

Most regular White people do not think in racial terms at all, they believe it is morally wrong or even "Racist" to identify as "White".

But White European societies worldwide are under attack as never before, our children are taught to feel guilty and ashamed of their Race, our history is denigrated and re-written to fit the politically correct narrative, and in every White society around the world borders have been opened with the deliberate intention to replace the existing White majority.

Quite simply that is ethnocide and it is a crime against humanity

The New Zealand National Front contends not only that "IT'S OK TO BE WHITE", but that it's perfectly fine to be whatever race, colour or creed you happen to be. However, we do not believe it is OK for the Government to deliberately push large numbers of culturally incompatible immi-

"Hey anti-Whites, here's a message from the next generation of White Dissidents... Diversity is a codeword for #WhiteGenocide, and..."

...White Supremacist is just an anti-White HATE slur thrown at courageous White people who openly oppose your program of #WhiteGenocide!!

I can't believe it's the current year and some people still equate White identity with racism. Grow up.

@WhiteMotivation

grants into areas of New Zealand that they consider "too white". That is an Anti-White and racist motive, and when done on a large enough scale it is Ethnocide.

The campaign to push Multiculturalism and Diversity into White societies and only White societies is a deliberate fraud intended to disarm our governments and our people so that we will stand aside and allow ourselves to be replaced in our own lands.

"IT'S OK TO BE WHITE" is part of an international campaign to highlight the extent of the problem and to motivate our people to a healthy respect for their own cultural identity.

It is not Racist or biggoted to love your own family, or community or country. And if we fail to act now to protect our country and the communities that created it, the certain result will be the fracturing of New Zealand society along ethnic and religious lines in exactly the same way as has already happened in Sweden, Germany, the UK and even in the larger cities of Australia.

Take an interest in this pivotal issue and visit the National Front Website today.

For more information and references please visit www.nationalfront.org